An exhibition titled 'New Sculptures' presenting the recent works of distinguished British sculptor Richard Hudson is on view at the Leila Heller Gallery, Dubai, and will run through November 7, 2016. The show brings to light the artist's predilection for the iconic and the abstract.

Hudson, famous for his organic sculptures is one of the few contemporary artists of his generation who is known to be competent enough to reshape the aspects of traditional sculpture. The artist highlights an efficient mechanism comprehended to rework the current time of occidental sculpture practice in its long tradition as the creator of beauty and "essentiality". Perfect curve and perfect line, prevalent in his works, appear to be his principal aspects of "essentiality".

The exhibition is on view at I-87, Alserkal Avenue, Al Quoz 1, Dubai, UAE. For details, visit, www.leilahellergallery.com
