Wassef Boutros-Ghali (In Booth A14) : We are proud to present a selection of works from the estate of Wassef Boutros-Ghali (1924-2003). Born in Cairo into a family of statesmen, Boutros-Ghali pursued a path in the arts early on, training with Jaro Hilbert before working as an architect and United Nations consultant in Egypt and beyond. His transition to painting was influenced by the vitality of New York's art scene, where he embraced large-scale canvases, vibrant acrylics, and abstract forms that convey energy and motion. His works reflect a lifelong passion for color and composition, continuing to resonate with a powerful, unrestricted physicality in the realm of painting.
